Christmas with the Relatives? Most of us Would Rather Stay at a Hotel

London, December 17, 2007: According to a survey of more than 1500 travellers by the world's largest travel community, TripAdvisor, nearly three quarters of us would prefer to stay at a hotel, rather than with relatives this Christmas.

Escape Claus

While 65 percent of British travellers will be spending time with family and relatives for the holiday, 74 percent said they would rather stay at a hotel than overnight with the nearest and dearest, and 18 percent said they plan to "escape
